The TOEFL listening section is the second section of the iBT test. It tests your understanding of spoken English and your ability to answer questions about the conversations and lectures you listen to. In this guide, we'll give you a full introduction to the Listen section in the TOEFL. About the TOEFL Listening Section The TOEFL listening section contains two conversations and four lectures in a university setting (Some tests may include an extra scoreless conversation or 2 extra unscored lectures. You won't know what the score will be, so it's important to do well in all conversations and lectures). After each conversation or lecture, there is a set of questions about the information being presented. You have 20 minutes to answer questions. This does not include the time you spend listening to lectures and conversations. Individual questions have no time limit. You can take as long as you want to answer a question as long as you answer all the questions on time. The entire Listening Section will take about 60-90 minutes to complete. QUESTION TIME RECORDING NUMBER Conversation 2: 3 5 2:3 min Lecture 4: 6 4:6 min Total 6:9 34:51 50:00 min Normally, most of the questions that follow the lectures and conversations are multiple choice questions with four options and a single correct answer. There could, however, be other question formats: multiple choices with more than one correct answer, those that require you to place the steps in a process, or those that require you to match objects or items to categories in a given table. When you start the Listen section, you'll see a computer screen with a photograph of a listener using headphones. The screen will tell you to put on your headphones. The next screen tells you how to change the volume by clicking the volume icon in the toolbar. Next, you'll see a direction screen. After you click the Continue button, the Listen section starts immediately. In the TOEFL hearing test, once you submit your answer, you can't go back to it as you can in the reading test. Therefore, you can't skip questions like in the reading test, so you may need to guess an answer if you get stuck. You can't afford to spend too much time on a question because you can run out of time and potentially lose easy questions, so if you get stuck, unfortunately, you have to move on. It is certain that one must be sufficiently ready for the exam, a status that can only be achieved by having as much practice as possible. That's where the instructors come in. Using material from 8 TOEFL Listening Conversations TOEFL listening conversations to TOEFL listening conversations are conversations between two people. A person is always a student. Another person may be another student, a teaching assistant, a librarian, a university administrator, and so on. These conversations take place on a campus - in a dormitory, library, cafeteria, classroom building or teacher's office. They deal with situations situations for college life, how to solve a problem that one of the two people is having. You'll see a photo for the first time that shows the two people in the scenario and set the scene for you. However, the image will not help you answer questions. Usually, the conversation lasts about 2-3 minutes and is followed by 5 questions. You won't see questions until the conversation is over. TOEFL listening to conversation alum questions from ETS TOEFL 1. Why is the man going to see the registrar? To find out why he is not on the list of graduate students to explain why he did not meet his graduation requirements to find out the exact requirements for graduation To submit a document required for graduation 2. According to the secretary, what step is currently taken to ensure that students meet their graduation requirements? Academic records are regularly checked by the registrar's office. Students meet with a department president to plan their course work. Students receive letters listing the courses they still need to take. Warning letters are sent to students who have been left behind in their courses. 3. Why does the man mention his classmates? To explain how he obtained information about field research to point out that many students like to do field research To show that it is difficult to obtain intermediate-level credits to emphasize their motivation to do field research in two of their 4 courses. Why does the registrar tell the man to contact his president immediately? A deadline has passed. The man has a limited time to solve his problem. The man first needs to find out if the president will help you. Issuing a new note may take longer than expected. 5. Listen to this track. She's uncertain about the reliability of the computer. She will approve of the man's form despite her doubts about it. She needs more information about the man's credits. She needs to call someone to help her fix errors on her computer. Answer 1. D2. B3.
